provides a comprehensive overview of the work of Edward Schillebeeckx through the presentation of key texts and commentary on his theology the book is an exploration of the creative crossings between the liberative stream of the eschatology of Edward Schillebeeckx and the stylistic strategies of third cinema political cinema dedicated to the representation of third world liberation this book presents the main teachings of edward schillebeeckx widely considered one of the most important catholic thinkers of the twentieth century schillebeeckx is known for his radical departure from traditional theology which he saw as no longer relevant to the modern world because today s world has been shaped by a process of secularization heavily based on reason and progress in science technology economics urbanism etc modern people seek relevant answers to their deep existential questions that can be explained rationally in his quest to foster relevant and meaningful answers for today s world schillebeeckx changed the traditional metaphysical content of christian theology into explanations that radically reinterpret traditional christian doctrines primarily the supernatural essence of christianity is given up as irrelevant and is replaced by a natural perspective on the world in schillebeeckx s thoroughly historical and truly immanent theology god is man s terrestrial future christ the symbol of universal human values and the church is identified with the world as those communities which share these universal human values schillebeeckx is convinced that these explanations emptied of metaphysical content can help today s people understand their existence in a new relevant and meaningful way what motivates practice of the liturgy and sacramental rites of the church does the worship of god begin and end within each ritual enactment or does the truth and value of sacramental celebration reside in the broader context of christian life in church and society for more than two decades prominent jesuit sacramental liturgical theologian bruce morrill has explored the promise and problems inherent in the second vatican council s call to renew liturgy s basic purpose namely the glorification of god and the sanctification of people morrill s fundamental argument is that this ancient christian principle is of a piece that divine glory and human holiness are so to speak two sides of a single coin the value of liturgy and sacraments is depleted if not lost unless they function within a holistic practice of faith that seeks the upbuilding of ethical lives personal and social with numerous real life examples plus references to current sociological studies the chapters address both modern challenges to and biblical and traditional resources for the celebration of sacramental rites today a select book list appears quarterly comprehensive and up to date research combined with the author's great gift of communication makes this a particularly popular text for introducing the historical Jesus to college students and adults current issues are treated with clarity and candor major reference work on key figures in the history of the church and their theology includes various reports of the association domination objectification and control seem to be emerging as the virtues of our time yet they also seem to misfire in frustration violence and resignation the human voice has shrunk to a whisper drowned out in the cacophony of consumerism competition egoism and fear are we missing God both the question and its answers are ambiguous God may be missed in different ways missing God may be a matter of our missing the signs of God's presence in the world talk about God and theology have been marginalized as relics of the past missing God may refer to our often hidden and sometimes misdirected longing for God the new political theology derived from the work of Johann Baptist Metz offers a response to our missing God it does this as an anamnestic and eschatological resistance to forgetting grounded in a memoria passionis responding to others suffering Metz's model of critical understanding sublates the modern variations on the dichotomy of reason and faith and provides an antidote to our cultural amnesia in the mystical political double structure of faith a political theology takes its shape only when it engages the issues of the times the essays in this volume are by political theologians and others influenced by Johann Baptist Metz they sharpen the questions and imperatives which mark political theology today in addition this collection testifies to the dynamic continuity of political theology in its German roots and North American developments authors Margaret Clark and Joanne Nelson provide a unique outlook on the theoretical underpinnings for faith community nursing from the perspectives of both theology and nursing divided into seven sections the book includes topics such as theoretical foundations of parish nursing promoting health in times of transition the process of nursing care within a faith community faith communities promoting images of health and the future of parish nursing
